*I COME FROM COMMON STOCK," confessed Groucho I Marx, "and furthermore, in the 1929 Wall Street crash, common stock made a bum out of me."

Groucho recalls "the most sincere compliment" ever paid him. A stout, pleasant faced lady (he never had laid eyes on her before) buttonholed him on a Chicago street and told him earnestly, "Don't die, Mr. Marx. Go on living. While you live, I'll live!"

The girl friend of a farout beatnik singer burst in on him unexpectedly and and caught him playing "Stardust" on his guitar.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Speculation, rather than college football teams, filled most of the available postseason bowl spots today even after Penn State and Baylor announced their willingness to participate in the Liberty and Gator Bowls, respectively.

This pair Monday joined Washington, Arkansas and Missouri, which over the weekend, announced bowl acceptances. DiSalle Plans To Detail Need For Assembly

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)-Gov. Micahel V. DiSalle will tell legislative leaders why he feels a special session to extend unemployment benefit payments is justified.

"I will answer their questions on the situation," DiSalle told newsmen today.

The governor called in Sen. Frank W. King, D-Lucas, and House Speaker James A. Lantz, D-Fairfield, majority leaders, and minority leaders Sen. C. Stanley Mechem, R - Athens, and Rep. Roger Cloud, R-Logan.

Cloud last week posed a series of questions about unemployment and a special session that he said Republican legislators would want answered.

DiSalle has said he would call a special session soon to extend jobless benefits payments from 26 to 39 weeks if assured of enough Republican support to make it effective immediately as an emergency. Republican spokesmen have questioned the need for an emergency because the next regular session of the legislature convenes Jan. 2. Democrats now are in control of the legislature but Republicans will dominate the next pleasant little success story in in an avalanche of mail from the The governor said a special sossion could be convened within a
